Givi EA104 expandable rucksack £48.95

Tester Michael Neeves
Time used Five months

What's good? Coming from a large, waterproof, sack-type rucksack I was worried this more compact-looking Givi bag wouldn't be big enough, but I was wrong. It will easily carry a laptop and various knick-knacks, but it unzips to expand to 22 litres, where I recently squeezed in two weeks' worth of clothes on a riding holiday. I also use the clip-on helmet bag section as a second storage area. The rucksack is nicely made, durable, comfortable and secure to wear. It has a useful fold-out waterproof cover and at less than fifty quid, it's affordable, too.

What's not? It could do with an internal partition, so you can keep paperwork separate from everything else.

Halfords Advanced Professional precision Torxscrewdriver set £11.99

Tester Andy Downes
Time used 18 months

What's good? Advanced, professional and precision are three words that have never been used to describe my attempts at spanning on motorcycles but these cost-effective Halfords tools have been just the job to offset my lack of skills. Lots of bikes now use Torx bolts and this screwdriver set has T5, T6, T7, T8, T9 and T10 sizes which cover much of the most commonly used smaller bolts used on electrical and other components. The shafts are chrome molybdenum vanadium steel and they are covered by Halfords' lifetime guarantee. The price represents excellent value for money and the spinning handles make working in tight spaces easier.

What's not? Nothing.

EDZ Merino underlayer leggings & shirt £50 each

Tester Alison Silcox
Time used Three months

What's good? After washing they retain their shape well, unlike previous base layers that have ended up with baggy knees and elbows. They are made from a really fine material so fit easily underneath leathers. I wore them recently on a touring holiday and even after a few days of wear they weren't smelly.

What's not? They are slightly itchy but I do have sensitive skin. And £100 for a base layer is not cheap.
